- 1) capacity comes into being when life leaves to a capacity all of its incapacity life leaves to a capacity all of its incapacity when incapacity becomes clear
- 2) capacity comes into being when incapacity becomes clear by connecting in a description of a life the connection is the way in which incapacity is leaving no other way to express a capacity
- 3) capacity can only see where incapacity becomes clear incapacity becomes clear when incapacity mirrors capacity showing that a life is seen from a capacity
- 4) capacity sees as by a mirror where incapacity leaves no other way to express a capacity the connection is the way in which the description of a life leaves capacity fully described
- 5) capacity can only see when incapacity becomes clear that the description of a life fills incapacity to feel incapacity as if incapacity fills a life fully
- 6) to describe this feeling that capacity could fill incapacity the connection is the way in which the description of a life fills incapacity fully and leaves no other way to express a capacity
